Online Education

1. Does all programs/courses were completed on time.	Yes
2. Measures taken to complete the syllabus of courses and programs.	Sometime in the second week of March, state government of Telangana apart from other state governments across the country began shutting down schools and colleges temporarily as a measure to contain the spread of the novel corona virus. It's close to a month and there is no certainty when they will reopen. The structure of learning that includes teaching and assessment methodologies was the first to be affected by these closures. We at MLR Institute of Technology have made some quick pivots of our own. The closures happened in the middle of the academic year, when faculty had already established a connection with their students. "Finishing an academic year online has not been much of a challenge, because the students know us well and we know them so well—we could communicate and make it work. All faculty of the institute underwent an intense crash course in online teaching methodologies, Open-source digital learning solutions and Learning Management Software to conduct teaching online. They reconsidered the current delivery and pedagogical methods by seamlessly integrating classroom learning with e-learning modes. Faculty and heads interacted online very frequently, collaborated as teams, and guided each other in designing course structures, among additional methods of help and understand what works and what doesn't. With the shift to online education all faculty had to redesign lesson plans to fit a very different format. Splitting the content of the syllabus and other tasks/assignments was crucial. Meticulous planning was done in this regard. In order to minimize confusion and lower the possibility of students missing the deadline the course was organized into weekly modules. For more assistance, a weekly consolidated checklist of all assignments and tasks students have to complete in a particular week was provided and monitored through Learning Management System. Every week the head of the dept. reviewed the syllabus coverage and if any deviation was noted an additional hour was given to complete the syllabus. Thus monitoring at small intervals helped bridge any gaps and complete the syllabus as per plan.
3. The period of delay in completion of syllabus (in months).	0
4. The period of delay in conducting exams (in months).	4
